FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The surface of the moon is the inspiration behind new Wilsonart® HD® design series

- Low contrast layers integrate well with glossy and low sheen surfaces -

TEMPLE, Texas (June 1, 2009) – A cool moon reflecting off a glass skyscraper sets the mood for six contemporary Wilsonart® HD® High Definition® designs. Inspired by the low contrast patterns on the moon’s surface, the Luna series embraces the metallic materials and metal colors found in today’s kitchens.

Think high-tech three-dimensional automotive surfaces, and you’ll get the feel of the Luna Series, which benefits from Wilsonart’s AEON™ enhanced performance technology. AEON brings both scuff and wear resistance to the surface as well as enhanced optical clarity of the design. The result is a surface that looks better when new, and looks new longer.

Just like the phases of the moon, the new series comes in different shades:

- Luna Frost: An illuminated white that gives new meaning to the “white kitchen.”
- Luna Night: A dimensional black at home anywhere.
- Luna Winter: A creamy white that’s “warm to the touch.”
- Luna Glow: A soft gold that surprises you with its depth.
- Luna Crest: A medium bronze, rich and earthy.
- Luna Shadow: A subtle pewter with a soft glow.
